After project deadline meeting analysis

Why do you think you met and missed the deadlines that you did?	Did you meet all deadlines for the project (requirements website on 29th March, prototype website on 15th May and final website on 6th June)?
the college deadline were all over the place	I met at least one of the first two deadlines but not the final one
As i am able to plan my time extremely well means i finished on time/	I met all the deadlines
Because I knew what to do	I met all the deadlines
I had nearly finished the website but there was a few changes i needed to make, which I left.,	I met at least one of the first two deadlines but not the final one
Other assignments	I only met the final deadline
I met the deadlines because I was enjoying making the website.	I met all the deadlines
Because of the outside client, I felt more responsibility to meet deadlines.	I met at least one of the first two deadlines but not the final one
I met the deadlines because Website Production unit is my favorite unit as it involves coding and it is also rewarding when you create something out of a simple code.	I met all the deadlines
Because I always upload my work before the deadlines.	I met all the deadlines
I dont know.	I only met the final deadline
Because I forgot about it and one of them I didnt know about.	I only met the final deadline
I think i met all the deadlines as i was focused on sumbmitting my work on time.	I met all the deadlines
Due to other assignments making me fall behind.	I only met the final deadline
The lessons clearly helped me understand what I needed to finish by the deadline and after every Thursday I had a study day on the Friday which gave me more time to work on the work needed for the deadlines.	I met all the deadlines
I missed the deadline for the assignement before the project took place, which affected my preformance with completing the last assignment (website Project).	I met all the deadlines
My lazyness/home issues	I only met the final deadline not completing the assignments in time.	I only met the final deadline because i went along to the wordpress clinic and was able to learn everything that i wanted done that i didnt know how to do	I met all the deadlines
I met a few deadlines, but one assignment where I had to make a website including information on isp's, networks and social media etc. I missed the resubmission deadline because I was overworked with assignments at the time, and had a hard time understanding how to improve based on my feedback.	I only met the final deadline
